DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

1. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

2. Claims 1-11 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over the admitted prior art.

Applicant admits that placing a paper liner within a "standard plastic grocery sack" is old and well known. However, a paper liner whose base and height are "approximately equal" to that of an expanded "standard plastic grocery bag" is not found. It would have been an obvious matter of design choice to make the admitted prior art paper liner with base and height dimensions that are approximately equal to a standard plastic grocery bag (this includes those dimensions recited in claims 3- and 10), since such a modification would have involved a mere change in the size of a component. A change in size is generally recognized as being within the level of ordinary skill in the art. In re Rose, 105 USPQ 237 (CCPA 1955).

There is nothing applicant's disclosure that would indicate the increased paper liner capacity and reduction in paper liner material, by making the admitted prior art paper liner with base and height dimensions that are approximately equal to a standard plastic grocery bag, is an unexpected and superior result or the result of routine experimentation.

Furthermore, the disclosure of the paper industry and its trade associations "objectives" (on pages 6-7 of the specification) is considered to be applicant's opinion; as is applicant's statement of "long-felt but, as yet, an unmet need which others have failed to address."

Regarding claims 2 and 7-11, the admitted prior art discloses the claimed invention, as discussed above, except for the grade of the paper liner being between 35 lbs. and 50 lbs.. It would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to use a grade of paper between 35 lbs. and 50 lbs. for the admitted prior art paper liner, since it has been held to be within the general skill of a worker in the art to select a known material on the basis of its suitability for the intended use as a matter of obvious design choice. In re Leshin, 125 USPQ 416.

Conclusion

3. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.
